Numb. 140.

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Saturday, SEPTEMBER 25, to Saturday, OCTOBER 2, 1736.

Petersburg, June 19.

THE further Particulars of the Expedition of Count Munich are as follow: Major General Biron, a Relation of the Count of that Name, and Grand Chamberlain to the Empreſs, was the firſt that mounted the Top of the Line of Precop, and Count Munich, being accompanied by the Prince of Heſſe Homburg, was the firſt who planted the Standard of Ruſſia thereon. A Ruſſian Prieſt performed Wonders on this Occaſion, and was one of the foremoſt in climbing the Rampart with a Croſs in his Hand. After the Surrender of the Town and Fortreſs of Precop, the Turkiſh Aga, who commanded the Place, went to pay his Reſpects to Count Munich; and being conducted through the Army, he admired the fine Appearance, and alſo the good Order and Diſcipline, of the Troops; and turning himſelf to the Count, he made him his Compliment: Sir, I have formerly travelled through ſeveral Parts of Europe, and can't find that the Ruſſian Troops are inferior, to any I ever ſaw; and what may not be expected from ſuch a General and ſuch an Army! The Aga having afterwards demanded a Sight of the Machines which the Ruſſians made uſe of to aſcend the lofty Trenches and Ramparts of Precop; Count Munich anſwered him no otherwiſe than by pointing to his Troops. I can't ſee, replied the Aga, that they have Wings; without which it is inconceivable to me how they could climb up a Rampart ſo ſteep and ſo high. The Turkiſh Garriſon of Precop is to be conducted to one of the Ports of the Black Sea.

The Courier who brought the laſt Accounts adds, that at his Departure Count Munich had advanced 20 Leagues into the Crimea; that the Army was in a good Condition, there being not above 1000 ſick; that Proviſions were in great Plenty; and that from the Beginning of this Expedition there were but 3 Men killed, 6 loſt, and 6 others mortally, and 170 ſlightly, wounded.

We told ſome time ago, that the Kan of the Calmucks, ſubject to Ruſſia, had totally defeated the Tartars of Cuban. The following Particulars of that Action are ſince come to hand: The Kan, who is called Donduck Ombo, began to march towards Cuban the 14th of laſt April with 40,000 Men; and in a few Days after he was informed, that about 5000 Families of the Tartars had aſſembled and put themſelves under the Command of Murſe Batyr Aſinia, famous for his frequent Courſes into the Territories of the Empire; and that they were in full March towards Cuban: Whereupon he made ſuch Diſpatch, that he overtook them upon the Banks of the River which runs through Cuban. The Tartars were not only advantageouſly poſted, but alſo formed a triple Intrenchment with their Waggons and Baggage, being fully reſolved to withſtand the Calmucks: This, however, did not deter Donduck Ombo from attacking them, and for that Purpoſe he detached his Son Gordan Narma with 20,000 Men: and as ſoon as he was within Reach, he cauſed his Troops to diſmount; and attacked the Intrenchments with great Fury. The Engagement was very hot and obſtinate, and the Tartars defended themſelves like Lions, killing a great Number of the Calmucks; but the latter forced at laſt the Barricadoes of the Tartars, whom they ſlaughtered without giving any Quarter, and ſpared none but the Women and Children, whom they carried into Slavery to the Number of 20,000.

A Journal of the Siege of Aſoph is handed about here ſince the 27th of March, which is the Day Count Munich began his March, in order to block up that Place. It appears among other things, that the Trenches were opened the Day General Lacy arrived before the Place, which was the 15th of May; that the Flotilla commanded by Admiral Bredal, which arrived there the 19th of the ſame Month

Month, consisted of 15 Galleys, a great Number of Barks; and that the Turks had made several vigorous Sallies, but were always repulsed with Loss.

LONDON, July 6.

'Tis confirmed that Kouli Kan has mounted the Throne of Persia by the Name of Shach Nadir.

Great Preparations are making at Naples for proclaiming Peace, and Don Carlos King of the Two Sicilies, he having been before declared only Generalissimo of the Army, which he conducted into the Kingdom of Naples.

Baron de Neuhoff is going to lay Siege to St. Fiorenzo; which 'tis not doubted but he will soon become Master of, altho' the Genoese have sent 150 Men to reinforce the Garrison of that Place.

They write from Frankfort, that the Election of a King of the Romans would soon come on, and undoubtedly would end in Favour of the Duke of Lorain.

The Coasts of Corsica are so strictly guarded by the Genoese Ships, that it is hard to know the true Situation of Affairs in that Island; tho' this Watchfulness of the Republick will only increase her Expences, and not mend her Matters: Since, according to her own Accounts, Bastia is reduced to the last Extremity, for Want of Fuel, and Water to grind Corn: And notwithstanding it has lately received some Succours, yet the several Packets which pass and repass between that City and Genoa, and the extraordinary Emotion of the Senate, shews the Distress of the Genoese, and the thriving Condition of the Corsicans; who are the more likely to become Masters of Bastia, because they have possessed themselves of Bonza, which opens a Passage to the Gulph of St Fiorenzo.

As for the Lord Theodore, he has established his Head Quarters at Patrimonio, and is attended by 300 Horse, 150 of whom are Carabineers, and march next his Person with their naked Sabres; he keeps three sumptuous Tables, raises large Contributions, and will get above 700,000 Livres by the Wheat and Barly produced by the forfeited Estates; he spreads Terror every where; and whatever Place is unhappy enough to resist him, is sure to feel his Resentment.

It is certain M. de Dahlman, his Imperial Majesty's Resident at Constantinople is recalled, but he has Orders, before he comes away, to make an Offer to the Ottoman Court of the Emperor's Mediation, to accommodate, if possible, in an amicable manner, their Difference with the Russian Empress, and to give the greater Weight to his Negociation, his Imperial Majesty has invested him with the Character of his Ambassador Plenipotentiary. This is said to be the Effect of a Letter from the Grand Signior to the Emperor, in which he begs his Imperial Majesty to interpose his good Offices with the Czarina, in order to put an End to the present War.

They write from Hanover, that Mr. Keene the British Plenipotentiary at the Court of Spain has imparted to his Majesty the Catholick King's Demand, that his Majesty shall guarantee the Kingdoms of Naples and Sicily in favour of Don Carlos, in the same manner as he has already done for the Dutchies of Parma and Placentia, by the Treaty sign'd at Vienna in 1732. It is said the projected Marriage between Prince Frederick, the Son of Prince William of Hesse-Cassel, and one of the Princesses will be declared after the King's Return to London. In order to which, it is assured that both Prince William and Prince Frederick will wait upon his Majesty, before his Departure from his German Dominions.

June 9. Yesterday came Letters from Bombay, dated in January last, which were put on Shore at Hastings from the Queen Caroline, Captain Wilkie, and confirm the Account we gave of the Derby, Capt. Anselme, being taken by Angria the Pyrate; varying in that she was taken in her Voyage from London for Bombay the 28th of December, being attacked by five Grabs, and near twenty Gallies, who in the Beginning of the Engagement shot away the Derby's Masts, whose Crew was sickly, and the Pyrates being very numerous and some other Circumstances concurring, they took and carried her off. There were several Women Passengers on board her, who with the rest were made Slaves. Her Silver and Cargo cost above 30,000 l. of which above 15,000 l. was in Stores; which will enable the Rogues to be more mischievous. She is the first Ship in the Company's Service these Pyrates were ever able to take, altho' their Head Quarters are but little distant from Bombay.

We hear that a Gentleman who married a Lady of Fortune but few Days ago, has parted with her for the Sum of 300 l. per Annum for 40 Years, by a Contract signed by him and her. And Yesterday the same Gentlemen applied himself to a Counsellor, to know if he could prosecute any body who should hold unlawful Correspondence with his Wife, &c. And the Counsellor being of Opinion, as 'tis said, That as he was not answerable, by virtue of the Contract, for any thing she should do, he could not prosecute any body upon her Account, &c. So that the Gentleman, being fully resolved to leave England on that Occasion went immediately to a Company of Gentlemen, sold his 300 l. per Ann for 8000 l. ready Money, and on Saturday next he will set out for Italy to settle there.
